

dcstreetcar

Coming 2013

dcstreetcar.com

Connecting Neighborhoods

Welcome aboard the DC Streetcar – a modern, environmentally-friendly transportation option designed to connect our District neighborhoods. More and more people are using transit, and this transit system completes the connections to where we need to go! DDOT's on track to have the DC Streetcar up and running along H Street/Benning Road mid-2013, the first stops in a system that will one day span the city.

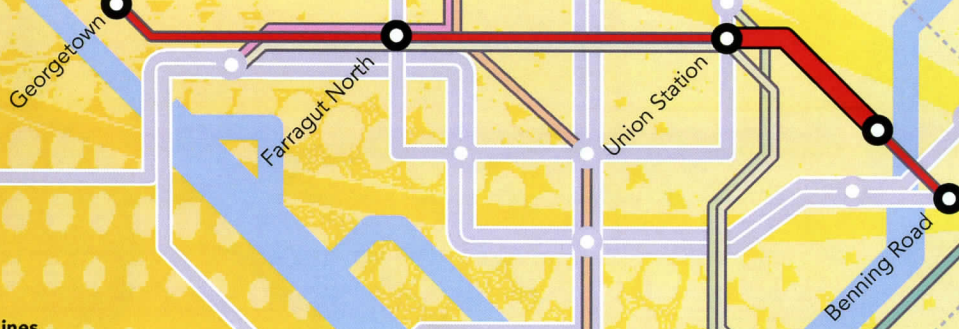

Connecting You

The DC Streetcar will conveniently and comfortably connect you with Metro and DC Circulator routes with 8 planned Streetcar Lines eventually connecting all 8 Wards. We'll get you to places like Brightwood, Georgetown, Historic Anacostia, Woodley Park, Union Station, and Congress Heights. And with trains operating 7 days/week, stopping at regular intervals, we can meet your schedule.

Connecting DC

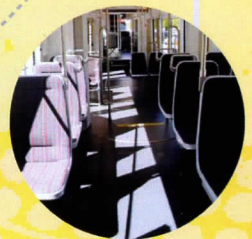

The DC Streetcar will encourage development, connect communities and business districts, and create places where transit, cyclists and pedestrians co-mingle.

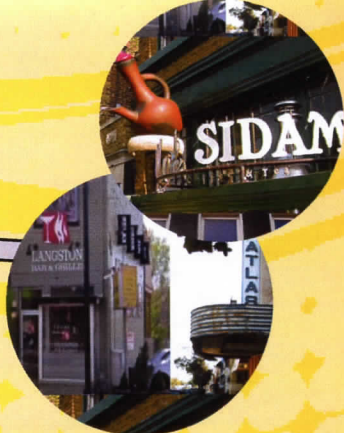

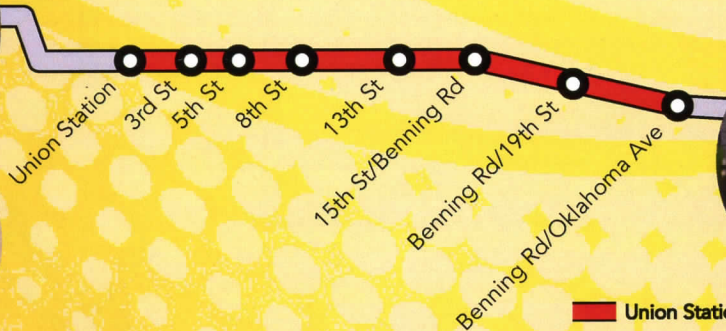

Proposed Streetcar Lines

-  H Street to Benning Road—coming 2013
-  Georgetown to Benning Road
-  Woodley Park/Adams Morgan to Congress Heights
-  Rhode Island Ave/Eastern Ave to Washington Circle
-  Woodley Park/Adams Morgan to Congress Heights
-  Takoma to Buzzard Point
-  Congress Heights to Washington Circle
-  Congress Heights to Buzzard Point
-  Bolling AFB to Benning Road
-  Existing Metro lines & stops

Streetcar Stops Coming 2013

-  Union Station to Benning Road
-  Future connection
-  Proposed stop

DC Streetcar Connecting DC

The DC Streetcar will enhance the new streetscape and provide access to thriving businesses along H Street/Benning Road. We'll complete the work in two phases and define the connections at both ends of the line.

Get Connected

DC Streetcar Team
District Department of Transportation (DDOT)
55 M Street SE, 5th Floor
Washington, D.C. 20003
Email: dcstreetcar@dc.gov
Phone: 1-855-413-2954

dcstreetcar.com

@dcstreetcar

